Dear Wynonah - (Caglan)

During the short time I've known you it has been a pleasure. Remember all the old going through~~out~~ the years and all the good times we use to have. Of course I know you'll make your home in Ville Platte some day - ha - I imagine next year you'll be in College with a new gang but I don't believe you'll find better 399's than us. (The Cream of Society) Please remember me always as a true friend - I'll never forget your cute ways -
a True Friend Forever

Dear Frenchman,

I'll never forget such a sweet and adorable friend. Also I'll never forget the "party" you once told us about. I sure learned lots knowing you and you sure know what I mean. How do you like Wade? The next time you go somewhere in Kitter's car, don't fall out & also don't frighten all the little negro kids along the way like they said you did coming back from Natchitoches from the Home Economics convention.

The next time you go to Little Platte please talk so someone can understand you. I sure wish you would teach me to speak French so I could understand you. Especially your joke. (remember)?

Wynona, you will always be as close a ~~friend~~ friend as you are now because I could never forget you.

Love now & always,
as ever,

Jean Forrest

Dedication

Efficiency in the main office, with its influence radiating into every classroom and every activity, is all important to the smooth functioning of the entire school. The dynamo directing this activity is a former teacher in Bolton's Commercial Department, an alumna of Sophie Newcomb College and the Bowling Green Business University—Mrs. Flora Lievens.

Such efficiency as exists in this department has become so matter of course since Mrs. Lievens took charge that we are sometimes prone to take it for granted and to appear unaware of the skill in organization, the untiring good humor, the patience, the understanding of pupil and faculty needs, and above all the complete fairness and quiet control that has gone into the making of this vital part of Bolton life.

The Senior Class therefore, with a desire to recognize true worth, dedicates this issue of BRUIN to Mrs. Flora Lievens in deep appreciation of what her efficiency, friendship, and understanding have meant to them in their four years at Bolton.

Mrs. Lievens buzzes for errand boy.

Mrs. Lievens runs daily announcement sheets.

Dear Wynonah

It's been nice
knowing you

Bruin Editorial Staff

"Mark these copy sheets, get the lay-out drawn and check these write-ups for errors" say the BRUIN Editorial sponsor and staff heads. This enthusiastic group works every vacant period and every spare moment on our annual. With the sorting of pictures, copying lay-out sheets and various other tasks connected with publishing an annual, not a let-up is permitted until the final proof sheets are sent to the printer. And when BRUIN is presented to the students the remarks of approval are thanks enough for the good job done by the BRUIN Editorial Staff.

Bruin Business Staff

"Oh, your pictures are grand!" "No, they're not, they're horrible!" "But yours are really good." This is what the BRUIN Business Staff must put up with as the school pictures are given to the students. As if selling, sorting, and distributing these pictures weren't enough, this staff also sells the Bruins, advertisements and picture contracts. Through this, they become acquainted with their fellow students and businessmen of the city. Although handling BRUIN Business is one big job, the staff members all enjoy their work, and do their best to help make the BRUIN better each year.

The latest news, the hottest gossip, and most luscious fashions are all included in the Cumtux, meaning "a little bit of the best of everything" which fits it to perfection. Maybe you see someone who seems to be a big snooper but probably it's just another Cumtux reporter after another big scoop on a story. Students wait eagerly for Tuesday which is Cumtux distribution day and those who don't subscribe crowd around those who do and hardly give them a chance to read their own copy of Bolton's newspaper.

Cumtux Business Staff

That ad has to be in by Tuesday! Yes, that's a familiar phrase around the Cumtux Business office and it sends the staff hustling.

Throughout the year this staff keeps busy selling ads, sorting and delivering the weekly editions, and soliciting new subscriptions.

At the end of each year the Business Staff compiles all the issues in bound volumes to be filed for future reference. They also finance an extra special 16-page Senior Edition and cooperate in every way with the editorial staff in efforts to attain a bigger and better Cumtux.

From Brahms to Stephen Foster and the moderns the Concert Band members know their composers and their music. To be selected as a member of the Concert Band is the ambition of every band pupil, for members are chosen only after try-outs, and, after admittance, in order to retain their membership, they must maintain a definite standard of performance.

The Concert Band members find the band period one of the most enjoyable of the day and one of which they never tire, for there is always

"Da-da-da-da-FIGHT!" Bolton's Football Band really peps up the football games and fires that "determination to win." The band, decked out in their snappy blue and white uniforms, and accompanied by the Band Boosters, march at the half of each game. They are led by the drum majors and majorettes who certainly do some neat little tricks with those batons. Loyal and true, this Football Band embodies the spirit of Bolton High School.

Dramatics...

Curtain going up! How many times a year these familiar words are sounded behind the stage of the Bolton auditorium and each time they bring the same thrill of excitement to the members of the Dramatic Club. Its members, who are all lovers of the stage, find it one of the most interesting clubs in the school, and the non-members are always inquiring as to when the next play will be given for they enjoy seeing them as much as the members enjoy presenting them. Bolton's proud of its Dramatic Club and regards it as one of the best.

Bolton dramatic students of outstanding ability are now affiliated with the National Thespians Society. Each year enthusiasts work to gain the required points for membership. These may be earned through readings, radio work, and plays. A formal initiation ceremony is held each year and the members, upon association with the society, receive copies of the Dramatics Magazine, official organ of all Thespians. The Bolton group produces a Thespian play and works for higher honors in Thespians.

ANN McLEMORE
Homecoming Queen

Bolton's annual Homecoming gets under way with lively parades and pep meetings which lead up to the most exciting game of the season. The celebration is climaxed by a big formal dance which is a "must" for Bolton students.

Our old rival, Byrd, appeared for opposition this year and much to Bolton delight was defeated 18-12.

Ann McLemore reigned as Queen, having sold the most season tickets. She was presented flowers by the Boosters and a trophy by the Bolton Athletic Association. The Queen reigned over the formal ball following the game. Her court consisted of Jo Ann Penny, Maid of Honor, Alice Williams, Cherry Dyer, Molly Kelley, Fallie D'Aunoy, and Delores Culpepper.

The Bolton Bears made a successful start in the first game of the season by downing the Opelousas Tigers, 26-13.

Although Friday, the thirteenth, is supposed to be an unlucky day, it was just the opposite for the Bears. Only three minutes of the game had passed when Francis Fuglaar scored around left end. Fuglaar, Bear right half back, was high scorer for the game with three touchdowns to his credit with one conversion. Daenen pushed the other touchdown across, with Broussard kicking the point. Bolton scored 12 first downs against the Opelousas 7.

The Bears tied the score with the Baton Rouge Bulldogs after a hard fought game on their home field. The score was tied 7-7 at the half, and by the third quarter the Bulldogs had boosted their points to 14 against Bolton's 7. However with only eight minutes left to play, the Bears staged a rally and scored again, which tied the game.

The Bolton Bears journeyed to Shreveport to lose their first game of the season to the Fair Park Indians. Sonny Pharis and Sam Hay scored the Bears' pair of tallies, and statistics after the game proved that Bolton gained more yardage, scored more first downs, and caused more losses than their opponents.

The Jennings High Bulldogs defeated the Bears, with both squads going the limit on offense and playing a loose defense.

The offense of the Bears centered principally around Broussard and Fuglaar, with Hay doing his share with line plunges and occasional passes.

The Homecoming Game

The Bolton Bears climaxed their homecoming celebration by downing the Byrd High Yellowjackets of Shreveport in a game in which Francis Fuglaar scored Bolton's three touchdowns.

The Bobby Broussard-Francis Fuglaar combination completed touchdown hideout passes in both the second and third quarters.

The Bears completed six of twelve passes to gain 173 yards in the air, while the Yellowjackets completed five of 14 passes to gain 36 yards.

In exciting run down center field, Fuglaar boosts the Bears' score.

The Bears clamp down on Istrouma Indians.

The Istrouma Indians remained undefeated in AA football by blasting the Bolton Bears, 34-0. Their strong offensive netted three touchdowns in the first half and one each in the third and fourth quarters.

Injuries to Hay and Fuglaar took some of the life out of Bolton, and they couldn't regain it.

The Haynesville Tornadoes in a terrific battle finally defeated Bolton when their fullback tallied thru center during the 4th quarter for the winning point. This was the first time this season that the Tornadoes were scored upon by another AA team and during the first half the ball never entered Bear Territory.

The season's last game brought victory to the Bears over the Natchitoches Red Devils. After two touchdowns in the first quarter the Bears began to lag and in the third quarter the Devils led by one point. In an exciting 4th quarter Bolton made two touchdowns to the Devils one and so secured the victory.

Basketball - 1947

Assistant Coaches Southerland and Schmolke and Head Coach Marler.

Interest ran high in basketball this year, with large crowds of enthusiastic students and townfolk at each of the Bear's games.

With only three men returning from last year's top-notch team, Bolton's chances for a successful season looked pretty slim at first, but the players soared forward to many victories.

The first game of the season was played against Dry Prong with the Bears winning by a score of 41-21.

On January 10 the Bears edged Warren Easton 44-43. In the opening seconds Francis Fuglaar began a miniature scoring spree, giving the Bears a 7-0 lead, later upset by the Eagles. As the game came into an exciting final period, Bobby Broussard began showing some All-State material and Francis Fuglaar scored a free shot followed by a foul shot by Sonny Pharis, putting the Bears ahead 41-39. After a futile attempt by Easton the score froze at 44-43. This game brought the Bears and the Eagles together for the second time in the season. The first game, in New Orleans ended in favor of Easton, 44-25.

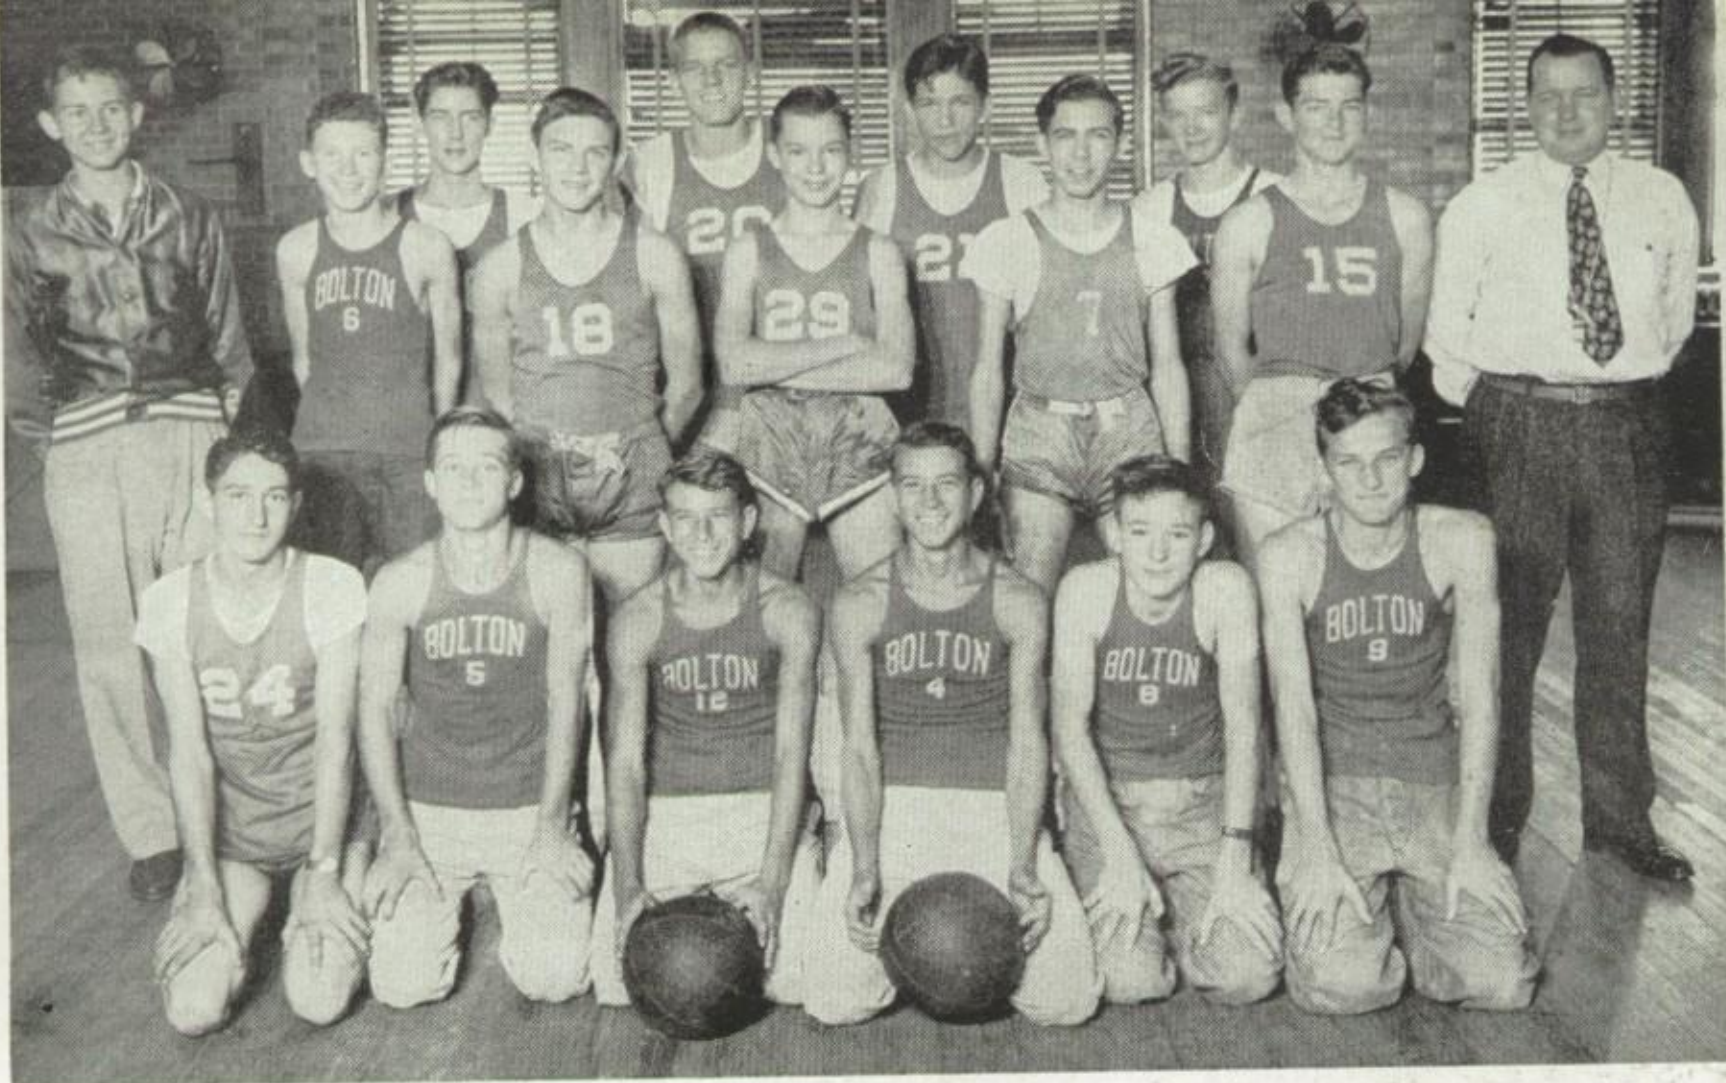

The Istrouma Indians, our biggest rival, defeated the hard fighting Bears in both contests this year. In the second game, played in Baton Rouge, Bobby Broussard, a mid-term graduate and main spark plug of the Bears was sorely missed. His last game for Bolton, the Ouachita game on the home court January 24, was dedicated to Bobby who lived up to his splendid All-State rating by leading the Bears to a 33-22 victory.

Hampered by the loss of Bobby Broussard, the Bear varsity quintet overcame their disability and swamped the favored Fair Park Indians 51-27, February 4, in a return tilt at the local gym. Joe Westerchil, star center and high scorer, drew the first blood for the winners in the opening minutes. Newcomer Carl Ben Priest broke the tie and put the Bears out in front.

In the February 14, Lake Charles game, both teams got off to a slow start. The Wildcats gained and kept the lead until the third quarter, when the Bears put forth their first and final drive to end the period on the big end of the 29-28 score. In the final period, the Cats made a comeback and scored 13 points to the Bear's 4. This tilt exhibited Westerchil and Francis Fuglaar battling it out for the high scoring Bruin of the season. The game ended with Westerchil high man with 103 points and Fuglaar lagging two points behind.

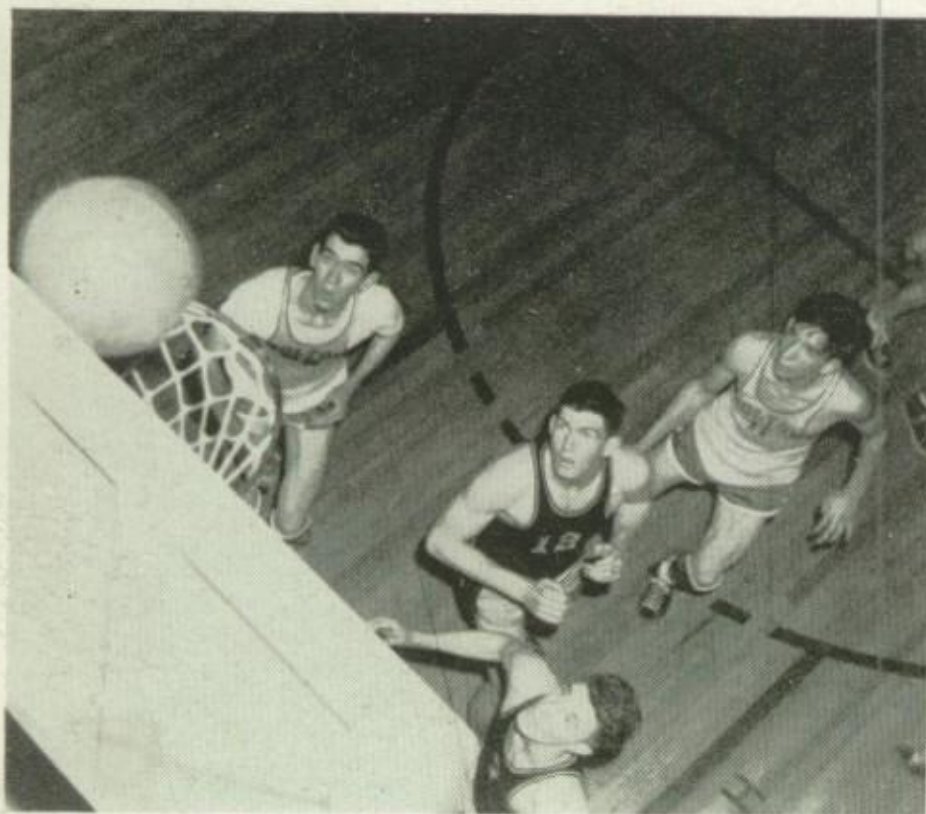

On February 18, Urania downed the Bears 56-32 although the Bears fought a hard game and were tied 6-6 at the end of the first quarter. Francis Fuglaar was high point man for the Bears, scoring 10 points to Westerchil's two and putting him well in the first place scoring spot for the Bears.

The Bears met tough competition in the District Tournament at La. College, February 21 and 22. They won the AA Championship, played A Champion, Jena, winning 24-22. When BRUIN went to press, they still had to play Urania for the grand championship title.

Tennis, 1947...

For the first time in its history, Bolton has been unable to secure a tennis coach. In spite of such a handicap the club organized and the team continued practicing with the aid and advice of the 4-year lettermen, Jimmy Cheneval and Mary Lou Hines. It is doubtful, however, that they will enter any of the state tournaments this spring. It is hoped that by next session a coach will have been found and Bolton can then resume her leadership in state tennis events.

Track and Field Events

The Bear track team pulled out of the 1946 season with a record that included the winning of two rallies.

The season began with the Southwestern Relays where Bolton placed in only two events. Traveling next to Natchitoches, they walked off with their first rally victory. Winning four firsts on hurdles, the discus, and 880-yard dash, the Bears were in high spirits.

From there Bolton entered, and won, the Central Louisiana Track Meet held at Louisiana College. The last meet was the eleventh annual Bolton Invitation Meet in which Bolton tied for fifth place.

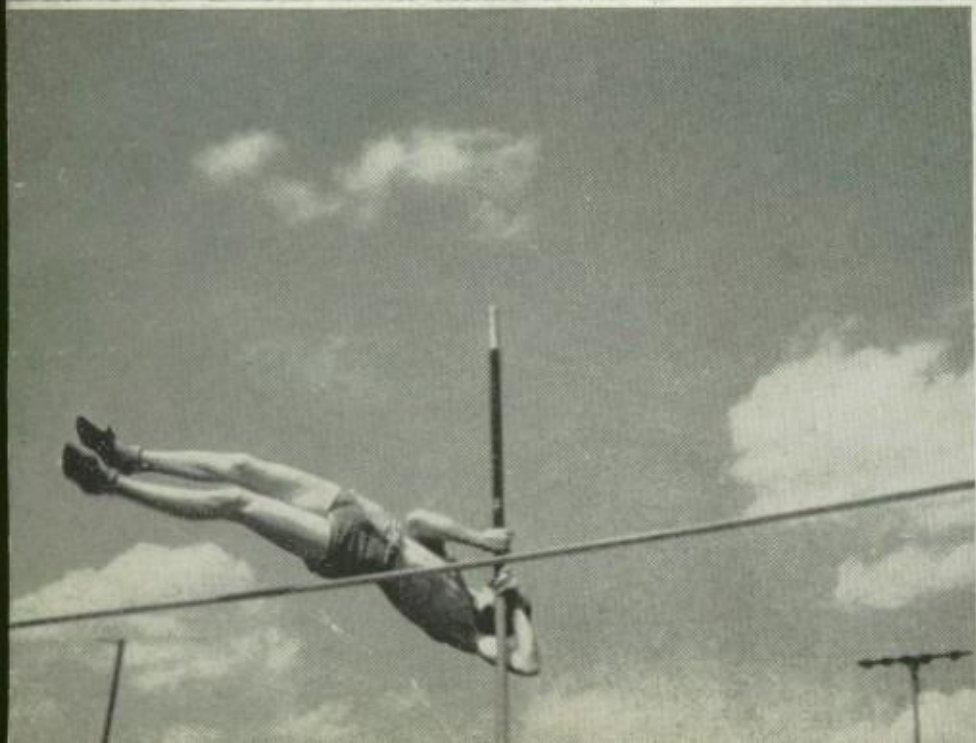

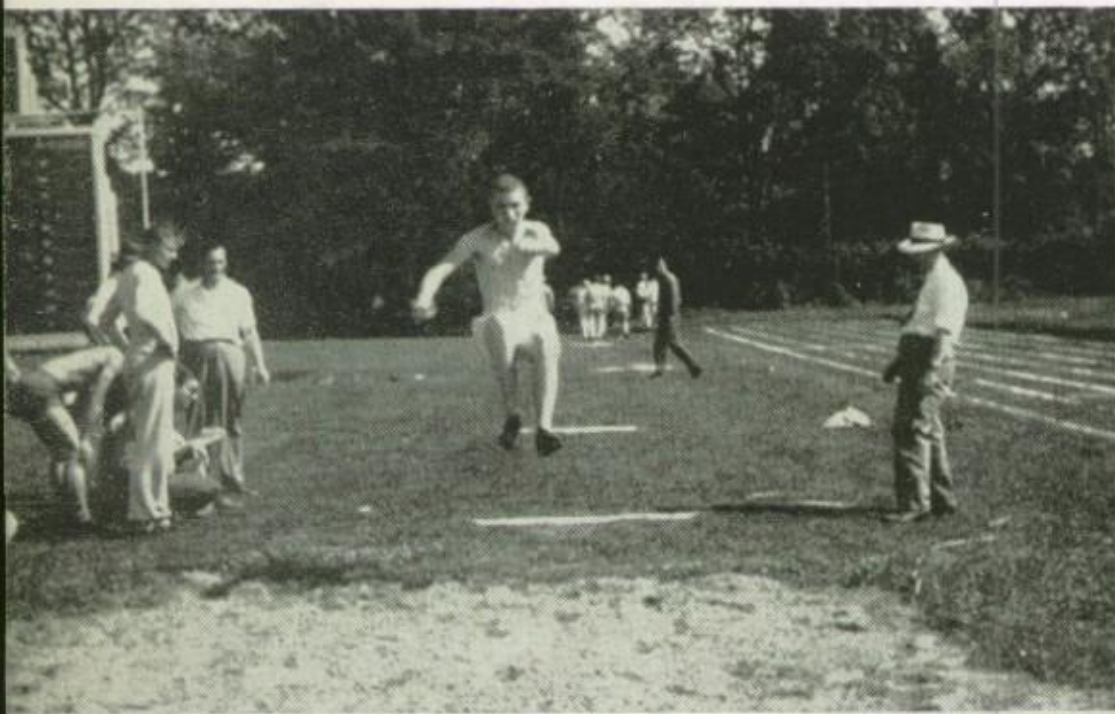

At the time the BRUIN went to press, the 1947 track season had barely begun but, judging by their past record and the experience of the team, Bolton should make a good showing in track this year.

Beginning with a few warming up exercises, the girls in the gym classes enter into sports ranging from tennis and basketball to archery and tumbling. The new director of girls' athletics, Mrs. Brister, instructs the students in all phases of the major sports.

The physical education program includes body development, personal health studies and first aid. Among the many activities pertaining to the body development are badminton, basketball, softball, volley ball, tennis, and calisthenics. Instruction is also given in the fundamentals of sports. Students are encouraged to develop skills they can use all through life, and to learn the true meaning of cooperation, mental alertness, and recreation.

Student Assistant Staffs

Bolton is our school in a double sense, for the pupils have an important part in the actual routine functioning of its many vital parts. Capable and dependent student assistant staffs devote their time before and after school, at recess, and at their free periods to working in the book room, cafeteria, canteen, key room, library, main office, treasury office, and assistant principal's office. Through the work and service of these staffs much of the red tape so vital for keeping things running is expedited. Indeed Bolton is extremely proud of her own student assistant staffs.

B o o k   R o o m   S t a f f

"Did anybody find a book?" casually inquires the student . . . blithely ignoring the overflowing shelf marked "Lost Books." Not a word about what kind of book, or whose it is. Girls in the book room must be part psychic, or good guessers, and certainly untiring workers, but the reward is loads of fun.

Mom's cooking couldn't be better than the meals which the cafeteria offers to Bolton students. They are tasty, appetizing, and economical. It's no wonder then that meal time is such a happy break in the day and helps keep Boltonites such a contented lot.

10:30, the mad rush for the canteen is on! Every day at recess and noon, the hard-working canteen staff is kept busy waiting on the hungry mob.

Many improvements at Bolton have been made possible by profits derived from canteen sales. So "hats off" to the Canteen Staff for their wonderful work at Bolton.

"Has the new Life come yet?" "Where can I find something about the Eskimos?" These are only some of the questions asked the students that make up the library staff. They are the ones who check, shelve, locate, and straighten the books for us and render every assistance possible to pupils using the library.

Behind three little windows in the Main Office most of Bolton's business is transacted. A number of dependable students keep the Main Office, the hub of Bolton, running smoothly. Some duties of the staff are keeping the scrap-book, running off the announcement sheets, assorting mail, and checking pupils in and out.

Dear Wynonah,

Cain't write very well but anyway I'll try. Cain't think of any thing good because I'll not in a good mood and anyway we neuer did anything good to remember us by. But remember all those good ole times we had and the things we did and the things we should have done but didn't. How bout those times we went places in Jean's jeep and especially the time we went to Lecompte and I drove.

Wynonah I have always thought you were the cutest little Frenchman every. Stay cute, sweet and tiny and I'll always love ya. Lots of luck and Best Wishes in college and always.

Yours Truly,
Edna Mae

Dear Wynnoch,

I guess you ~~the~~ won't be able to read this but you can try. ~~Remember~~ <sup>Remember</sup> the ~~good~~ <sup>good</sup> times we have had together. If we both go to haw. college lets hope we get some classes together. I wish you lots of luck thru life. Lots of love to you sweet girl;
Catherine

Dear Wynnoch,
we, in Mr. Olli's first period class are to be pitied. But ~~if~~ we live over it,
I suppose we'll know all there is to know about the war, etc.
Be good always
